TWEET POTHOLE LOCATIONS USING #502pothole OR GO TO LOUISVILLEKY.GOV

The annual blitz to rid Louisville Metro streets of the potholes formed after a long winter is underway. Metro Public Works (MPW) is moving across the city in a grid pattern to patch all the potholes it can find. Of course, MPW responds to reports and patches potholes year round, but it especially wants the public's help though the blitz that ends on April 30. Here's how you can report a pothole:

- On Twitter use the hashtag #502pothole. Just include the address or intersection where the pothole is located along with the hashtag in a tweet, and you're done.
- The pothole reporting form that you can find at the top of the city's webpage. Just click on the "Report a pothole" link and fill in the location information.
- Contact Metro311 in one of these ways
- Call them at 311 or 574-5000
- Download the Metro311 app on your smartphone and use it to report a pothole
